ELEGANT RECEPTION

A Melange of Items, Personal and Other- To the Teachers of Lancaster County Wed nesday Evening.

> One of the most enjoyable receptions ever held in the city was given Wednesday even ing by Messrs. Lillibridge & Roose of the Lincoln Business College to the Lancaster county teachers. A very entertaining program had been prepared, and the rooms were crowded with Lincoln's best people.

The first number was a solo by Miss Nan nie Lillibridge, one of Lincoln's sweet singers followed by an address on "Higher Educa-tion" by Prof. Lane. Miss Nellie Young was next on the program with a violin solo, which was heartily applauded.

Mrs. W. S. Huffman followed with an ex cellently rendered reading, "Aux Italieno." This was Mrs. Huffman's first appearance be fore a Lincoln audience as a reader, and the applause given indicates the impression her ability made upon the audience. Miss Ethel howe, whose attainments every Lincolnite knows, sang the "Echo Song" in her usual brilliant manner, and received an enthusiastic encore. Rev. Allen next deliver ed a pleasing address, followed by Miss Ressi Lane, a rising young elocutionist with one of her popular selections.

Prof. F. D. McClusky, county superintend ant, made a few remarks, Miss Howe sang another solo, Prof. Hunt read a selection, the Gaeckler Bros. arkit. T. Gaylord closing the program with one of their splendid zither and guitar duets, which was beartily applaud ed. A pleasant informal social followed, and the audience dispersed with the satisfaction of an evening well spent.

Local and Personal. Mr. Robert McReynolds has secured the lease of the new Love opera house at Fremont, and will open the same some time in November. Bob has a thorough knowledge of the ins and outs of the theatrical business and will give Fremonters the best attractions

Mr., Harry Rotton, who has been a sufferer for a number of years from a complication Rev. Lewis Gregory of the First Congregational church is spending his vacation at day morning. The remains were taken to of diseases died at her home in this city Tues Unadilla for interment. The bereaved hus band has the sympathy of many friends in his time of tral.

Dr. Nunally, who hails from Kansas City made an anti-prohibition speech on Govern ment square on Tuesday evening to a large audience. This is rather a novel idea, and as the gentleman wishes to divide his time any evening with a prohibition speaker, lively times may be looked for. Mr. Andrus informs the Courrer that the concert prepared for tomorrow at Cushman park is the most expensive he has yet furnished. The high class of the music rendered will prove the most artistic success the park has had this season. Go out at 2:30 p. m. to enjoy the afternoor, Brick work on the new Zehrung block cor ner Twelfth and N streets has been commend ed, and it is expected that the building will be ready for occupancy by November first. Each room will be supplied with water, both hot and cold heated by steam and in short will contain all modern improvements. The third floor will be used as a lodge room.

COURIER readers will oblige the publisher by sending in the names of all such people as are spending the summer abroad. On our eighth page will be noticed a long list of Lincolnites who are abroad and as it is our aim to get this list complete we kindly request you to assist us in furnishing such desired infor-mation as you may be able to impart.

The Springfield, O., News of last Sunday contained the following: W. S. Huffman, founder of Lincoln, Neb., Lodge, No. 80, and Past Exalted Ruler of Springfield Lodge, No. 51, spent several days in this city with his parents last week, eproute from New York city and the east where he attended the grand other humors? Take Hood's Sarsaparilla, the lodge. He was looking and feeling well and was warmly welcomed by his host of friends

Everybody is a disgusted at the slowness of the paving contractors in putting the stre return thanks to Mrs. H. W. Brown for a jar in presentable condition. It is very true that such a careless method of doing business is very aggravating, but any one so afflicted is cordially invited to drop into Hallett's and feast their eyes and gratify their sense of the beautiful by examining his excellent as sortment of jewelry, diamonds and precious stones of all kinds. Our number is 113 North Eleventh street.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Ziemer will return in a day or two from Danville where they have been visiting the past week. Next week, ac-companied by Mrs. H. P. Foster, they will start on an extended tour of the east, taking in New York, Washington, Saratoga and the fashionable seaside resorts. The COURIER tenders the party its sincerest wishes for a safe and enjoyable trip and trusts the recre ation and absence from home for a month will prove beneficial to all.

Mrs. Foreman has been busy the past week arranging her damaged stock of fancy goods preparatory to disposing of the entire lot. There was, however, scarcely anything saved Our genial friend John Betts can nowadays and nearly everything has some damaging be found at S. H. Burnham's office in Richmark. Mrs. Foreman has rented the west half of Mr. Barr's jewelry store, 1019 Ostreet, and will occupy it about September first with a complete new stock which she will personnext week.

The windows of the Famous have been ar rayed in political festoons, the east window being tastefully decorated with democratic emblems, bandannas and a cabinet picture of Grover Cleveland, while the west window shows the American flag handkerchief and other articles em! a natic of republican -m : d victory, with the word "Protection" plain y displayed. Mr. Russel Brydon is the artist and the windows reflect credit on the young man. Peep in and see them as you pass the opera house corner.

Mr. Geo. R. Knowles was pleasantly surprised Tuesday evening while sitting quietly at home by a number of friends and neighbors entering in a body and informing him that as on that day he attained the dignity of thirty-three years of age, it was but meet that it should be properly celebrated. After receiving the congratulations of his guests, selves at home, and the ensuing hours were pleasantly spent at cards, social conversation bered by the participants.

The summer is Here.

This may seem rather a peculiar remark to make, but it's true nevertheless and while sing up O street yesterday our genial riend Dennis, the opera house hatter, informed us that his line of summer coats and vests, in silk or flannel, were never finer and not only has he a line of fine goods but in medium grades as well, ranging from $1.50 to $10 and the prices being cut so low now as to afford every one a thin, cool and comfortable garment. His line of light stiff bats are also being sold at prices cheaper than ever at this season of the year. Go and see Dennis Light colored bats, coats and vests are being sold at and below cost to close out the stock. Look at the prices marked on goods in Dennis' window as you pass the store.
